“ My papaw was the greatest man I've ever known and maybe will ever know. He was a kind, generous, down to earth, old fashioned man of God. His many titles included preacher, coal miner, friend, husband, father, grandfather, GREAT-grandfather, and of course an avid storyteller. Time spent singing hymns, reading from Scripture, drinking ridiculously large amounts of coffee, watching westerns (& Sanford and Son), as well as bringing immense happiness and laughter to the lives of those around him. I'll forever miss how he would laugh at his own jokes (they made us laugh too) and the compassion he showed people and animals alike. Darlin' Newsome will remain in my heart and the hearts of many others for the remainder of our lives and maybe longer. Written by his only granddaughter, Eva Kaeton. :)

“ The first man to ever love me...the first man I ever loved. My Daddy was a hard worker. He was a great husband and father. He was more than a great provider. He loved being an Uncle. He loved being a brother. If he was your friend...you were blessed. But more importantly to him and me too...he followed Christ. So death for him is not an ending. But a journey to a permanent home. I am happy for him, in that he will never again be tired or labor to breath. Now he is in a home that is worthy of him. And as the hymn goes...no goodbyes will be spoken, for time don't matter anymore. No one had a better than me.
