“ I got to talk with my first cousin, Woody alot these last few years. He was funny, not a lot to say, but when he did, everyone listened. I was on the phone a lot when his wife, Tammy, passed away. That just broke his heart. I was on the phone when Tammy's funeral possession passed the house and he watched as he was so heartbroken he could not stand it. I appreciated the way he and Tammy took care of Grandpa's house. That is the house I remember growing up as a child visiting Aunt Laura and Grandpa. I appreciated the way he and Tammy took care of the graves of our loved ones in the back of Grandpa's house, including Grandpa and Grandma's graves. My Dad who was his mother's brother, always had great things to say about my cousin Woody. He felt close to him as a fellow soldier, as my dad was also in Vietnam. Soldiers never forget one another. Well now Woody is in Heaven with my Dad and they are sharing the Lord. God bless you Jason and Jessica.. He is already missed.
