Tribute Wall

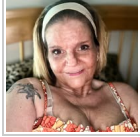

“ I’m sorry it cut me off before I could finish what I was trying to say about her. I remember looking up at her and thinking how Amazing she was and how Proud I was to be her daughter. I thought I hope & pray one day I could be half the woman she put before me. I still hope that now. Mommy I hope you are proud of me and I know you seen a little of yourself in me because even when I speak other people say that I sound just like you. I can’t help but Smile when I hear those words because you are my hero and I pray that God lets me live up to your expectations. You will live on as long as I do if God lets me have even a small amount of your courage and strength. All my Love from your youngest daughter.

“ I know I should have posted this earlier when I first lost my mommy. Words cannot describe how much I Love & Miss my beautiful mommy. I don’t think her or anyone knowed how much she meant to me. She truly was my Hero. I remember so vividly how she looked walking down the street beside me when I was a little girl. I remember she always carried herself strong and proud.
