“ One of my favorite memories of Joe was watching how much he adored Faye. His beautiful wife. He could care less who was around him if he wanted to show her affection, he would. His pet name for her was momma. And Faye, was just as in love with him. They gave me a place to stay when I needed it. He would wake us every morning watching preaching or Andy Griffin on the TV. Joe certainly wouldn't hold back on words. He was always cutting up about something 💕 I've never heard him speak bad of anyone. Everyone seemed to stop by and talk with Joe when they'd see him out on the porch. I don't think there one person in the neighborhood that didn't know and respect Joe. Joe was more than a father to my best friends he was my second Daddy. 😞 I will forever be grateful for all the Kelly family has done for me and my family. Please dear Lord give Joe a huge hug for me.
