“ We spent ur last day on this earth together, laughing, goofing off, and messing with the people that work the drive- thru windows We had so much fun that day, just like we were teenagers again. We laughed and cut up all day, right up until the very end. I was holding him and he said i love u sis, i gotta go, but u have to go on. Im so glad he said those words to me before he left this earth. I love u Nathan and I'll c u when i get there.
