While I really do understand your point, this is not the place or time for this. Please understand that she has family too that had no part in this and we are grieving over her loss. I pray for the family of Mike Adney. Please pray for ours. Thank you.

Thank you for understanding that my son was murdered. A part of my heart and soul died that morning that he was murdered in cold blood. My pain was laughed at and my life threated so much. I am and always will be a person who says what I think. To the family that knows the truth and I don't know I will pray for them. My pain and hurt will never ever go away. A mother should never have to bury thier child. Be as it may..I still stand strong for my only son..

Ken Ridler I will choose the time and place for what I say and will not take direction from you. Your loved one took part in Michael's murder. I have no regrets for posting what I have. I don't give two cents about your Family or their feelings. Please know that your prayers are neither welcomed or needed.

Michael - July 17, 2020 at 10:37 PM

You all don't have to pray for my mother, I don't care but you will not get on her page and talk about your son and "karma". Your son made his choice and it wasn't a very good one. Stay off of her page.

He did not choose to be setup by meth heads. Your Mother's choice to over indulge with drugs wasn't a very good one. If you choose to continue to push the proverbial snowball downhill it will only become larger.

*Michael,
All my family has done is fight drug addiction for years. Your argument is not with me or my family. Your fight is with the one who pulled the trigger. I have prayed for Mikes family since it happened. If one person does something bad, that don't make the whole family bad. And I will continue to pray for his family. You may not welcome them but god welcomes all prayers.*

*Brenda Hall,
I have heard so many stories of what happened that day. I did not know your son, but I know that he did not deserve that. As I said before I don't know what happened that day either. My wife and I never laughed at you, and I can't imagine your pain. My family may never know the truth about what happened. I had a no contact order placed on Rachel for over a year, and we have had no contact during that time. I do not believe the story that was told to me by those two, however I was not there. The reason I made the post is because of her daughter. I do have FB messenger and if you guys want to talk we can do it privately there. I am very sorry about your son, and all that you have been through. I will continue to pray for you.*

Brenda hall and Michael I don't know why I'm just now seeing this but I will pray for you. I will pray for you for talking about someone who can't defend themselves. I will pray for you for how you talked to my niece. And I will pray for YOUR karma.

“ Rachel was like a fire cracker growing up. She loved her family very much. She got out of control, because she wanted to experience everything life had to offer. But the experience went wrong for her . I love you Rachel and I pray that you have found piece as you travel for the last time to your new home. Your loved ones are going to miss you big time. May God be there to greet you With open arms .Amen.....Jettie
