“ It's a shame your wife forgot all about you and is engaged to one of your good friends now. I'm so sorry Randy.

Being judgmental in thinking a person who passed away and is in spirit would have an opinion about what is happening on earth is quite a wild stretch.

Life is for the living and everyone deserves happiness, regardless of their affiliation with those who have passed on- The first thing I hope my husband will do if I die, is be able to find love again—to think someone is supposed to be in mourning for a particular amount of time is not conducive to being human and is a terrible socio-constructed generalization of grief—What is truly a shame is allowing your pre-conceived notions about how people should live their lives put a negative spin to an incredible person and obituary.

“ Alice, Delisa, Amanda and Randy's Family - I am very saddened by Randy's passing. Like his Father, Randy was the very definition of "a mighty good Man". He loved his Family and he loved his community - his actions spoke louder than words. He earned and deserved the love and respect of all who knew him. Randy will be missed by so many folks. May our Good Lord give you comfort and healing through your warm memories of Randy.

“ Randy was always so good to me and always had a kind word for me when I was a dispatcher at Post 9. He was one of the first Pikeville firefighters I ever met in 1990 when Bob was chief. He was a big influence to me and several other firefighters and he leaves a huge void in the lives of many of us. Prayers for his family, department, and his friends!

“ Randy you have left a void that will be hard to fill. Since I was about 18 or 19 you took me under your wing as a young firefighter just getting started and mentored me and taught me life lessons that I'll never forget. I can't put into words how blessed and thankful I am to have had you as a mentor, friend and chief. You rest easy now and know we have your family and the watch from here

It is hard to think it has been 4 years since you passed Chief, looking back on the lessons you taught me as a young adult and the laughter shared, is some of the best I have. I was blessed to have called you a friend, mentor and Chief. I can only hope you are resting well and enjoying what God has created for you. The lessons you taught and the memories made will last a life time.
