“ My dear sweet uncle...did you know how precious you were to so many? You were strong, but so kind. You were hardworking, but knew how to have fun and a good laugh. You truly enjoyed the simple things...love of family and friends. You were a wonderful husband, a loving father/grandfather, and a great friend. I have so much respect and admiration for you. Once again...here I am with regret. I should have told you instead of writing all of this now. I'm sure gonna miss those laughing blue eyes and that big dimply smile. I gonna miss hearing you whistle or singing a country song. Oh...and I'm even gonna miss trying to run from you with that camera! You will be forever loved and missed.

“ Daddy, my heart is broken ?? you took a part of it with you forever. The days and nights are getting harder as it hits me like a ton of bricks that I will never see your big smile or hear your comforting words again. You were my hero.....I just never told you. Just know that I will always be Daddy's Little girl to the best Daddy a little girl could ask for and that I will love you forever. Love you little girl.

“ Ronnie was such a good man. I only wish that he knew how much he meant to all of us. There will always be an emptiness in our lives. Riding four wheelers, vacations and even going out to eat with the gang will never be the same. He touched everyone of us more than he will ever know. We all admired and respected him so much and no one will ever fill his shoes. He will be sadly missed. May you rest in peace our dear and precious friend. Angie

You can only lose a best friend once in your lifetime, I've lost mine. I only hope that you knew what an influence you were in, not only my life, but also my sons and wife. We all looked up to you and respected you immensely. I will sorely miss your logical advice and our intellectual debates (lol). This one is gonna hurt me a long, long time, but like we always said -We made a hell of lot of good memories together- and I will cherish each and every one of them til my time comes.

“ We have all hurt so much over the loss of Ronnie. He was such a special person with a gentle, kind spirit. I only hope he knew how much we all loved and cared for him. Four-wheeling will never be the same, vacations will never be the same, life will never be the same without his presence. We were so blessed to not only call him our friend, but to consider him a member of our family. Such a void has been left in our hearts, but we will forever carry on his memory and remember his sweet smile with those big beautiful dimples. And we will also remember each and every special memory he left with us. Fly with the angels Ronnie, until we see you again.
